Description

The site is a relatively flat area of land covered with numerous (recently planted) eucaptyus and She-oak trees. The northern boundary abuts the Hamilton Highway and the southern boundary is adjacent to the Fyansford river flats. To the west is the Fyansford Hotel, bottleshop and parking area. There is a simple sign constructed of two treated pine poles and two flat boards on which ‘Peter M McCann Memorial Grove’ is written. A fence of treated pine poles surrounds the site.
